THE petition to try and keep Axminster Hospital in-patient beds open is gaining momentum. Axminster Hospital Action Group has in excess of 2,500 signatures on paper and more than 200 online signatures.

Campaigners have also erected a sign on Minster Green, urging people to sign the petition.

Dr James Vann, who leads the group, said: "We must keep at it.

"We are confident we can change the mind of the clinical commissioning group."

NEW Devon Clinical Commissioning Group is currently consulting on a plan to move in-patient beds in Axminster to Seaton Hospital.

The petition can be signed in various shops and online at www.thepetitionsite.com/415/227/679/save-the-beds-at-axminster-community-hospital/

Changes at Honiton CC

HONITON Cricket Club have announced changes to some of the club's key positions.

Firstly the club has a new chairman in Andrew Lapping after Kim Slater decided to call it a day.

This made room for a new vice chairman which was filled by Pete Matraveros.

First XI Captain Rob Ingram will be at the helm for a second season, but 2nd XI captain Kieran Conway decided not to stand. So their new man in charge is former long time captain Andrew Lapping.

The new chairman thanked his long-standing predecessor and is looking forward to the challenge ahead, he said: "Firstly I would like to thank Kim on behalf of everyone at the club.

"She has been a major part of our club for the last 15 years and has left her mark on the club in more ways than one, no one should underestimate what she has done over the years."

Regarding his new roles Lapping said: "Admittedly when going to the meeting I wasn't planning to become chairman as Kim shocked us with her announcement.

"But now I am doing it I will give it 100 percent as I have with my whole time at the club. I am excited with the challenges ahead and am very driven to take the club forward, both on and off the field.

"We have some fresh faces on the committee and along with our members we will look to move things on."

"As for the captaincy, it was my plan to stand again, after having a few years off from the job to recharge I am now ready to help bring on the newest crop of youngsters."

Quotes of the week...

“ THERE were a number of issues that we said were not down to this council. Basically, we are finding ourselves being charged for work we specifically said was not down to us.

"We are being asked to pay for someone else's mistakes. I was appointed by this council to oversee the build of the Beehive.

"Issues have arisen and I want to make it clear they were not down to my incompetence."

Deputy Mayor of Honiton, Councillor John Zarczynski, speaks out over The Beehive as details of a 'safety net' loan taken out by the town council to cover unexpected costs was revealed

“ I HAVE been requested to withdraw my statement, this I will not do.

"Despite its origins, the cartoon was offensive and insulting to a member of Axminster Town Council, as well as a diversion from the issue at hand, namely keeping and improving services at Axminster Library."

Despite a U-turn on his assertion that he would now boycott the Support For Axminster Library group, Mayor of Axminster, Councillor Jeremy Walden, is still angry over the publication on Twitter of a cartoon ridiculing the situation he found offensive

Mayor's U-turn

AXMINSTER mayor Jeremy Walden has made a partial U-turn and watered down his criticism after saying he would boycott Support for Axminster Library.

He now accepts that what he deemed an offensive cartoon suggesting two councillors "conducting an adulterous, same-sex relationship" was not posted by Support for Axminster Library.

Support for Axminster Library says the cartoon has been misinterpreted and had no sexual connotations whatsoever.

The drama started when a stern-faced mayor Walden opened Axminster Town Council's November meeting by declaring he was about to make a statement. He told the meeting that he was full of admiration for the group's campaigning, but less than impressed with a tweet.

He said: "My attention was drawn by a member of the public to a Twitter posting.

"This was a cartoon with some script attached. Whilst the artist is a very good caricaturist, this cartoon was not amusing or satirical.

"The member of public who raised this with me inferred this as a suggestion that a member of this council was conducting an adulterous same-sex relationship with another councillor (not of this parish). This was insulting and degrading and possibly actionable."

The mayor issued a further statement on Sunday evening, saying: "Further to representations from members of Support for Axminster Library, I would like to note that I understand that the cartoon originally published on Twitter was posted not by this organisation, but by an individual in a personal capacity; although he is a member of Support Axminster Library.

"I fully accept that Support Axminster Library was not an organisation responsible for these postings, but they were of private individuals.

"I have been requested to withdraw my statement, this I will not do. Despite its origins, the cartoon was offensive and insulting to a member of Axminster Town Council, as well as a diversion from the issue at hand, namely keeping and improving services at Axminster Library."

From the editor's chair It's all change at the Chamber

AFTER months of trying to breathe life into Axminster Chamber of Commerce, new chairman Lisa Lyman and her deputy, Chris Tipping, have decided to stand down from their posts at the end of the year.

Before moving to Axminster to open her business, Apple Tree Galleries and Tea Rooms, an asset to the town centre, Lisa worked in America where chamber of commerces hold great sway. In fact, they have more influence than many of the local councils.

That, of course, is not the case in this country where traders' groups, such as the chamber of commerce, wield very little influence and, indeed, have disappeared completely in many towns.

Some believe the term "chamber of commerce" is old fashioned and outdated and should be replaced by some catchy, clever name.

They've tried that twice in Lyme Regis and it's failed dismally to inject any more interest into their proceedings.

When I spoke to Lisa and Chris last week they were both a little down in the mouth about the continuing apathy that seems to grip Axminster from time to time. Not that they lost faith in the town as a vibrant commercial sector, stating publicly that they will remain members and do all they can to help, but there is definitely a reluctance on behalf of the trading community "to get involved".

Although the green shoots of economic recovery are starting to sprout, or so we are told, these are still difficult days to run a business, especially in small towns. I know that better than most, having had to grapple with falling advertising revenues to keep Pulman's View alive and kicking.

It's been the biggest challenge of my long career – but we are still producing 15 local papers a week and keeping 30-plus people in work, mainly youngsters. But the hours are longer and the pressure greater.

People running businesses just don't have the time to spend on extra-curricular activities any more.

Back in the chamber of commerce heyday, when H.R. "Lord Jeff" Jeffery, Frank Rowe and the Gill family ruled supreme in Axminster, the traders wielded great influence. But Axminster was a different town in those days.

Whilst Axminster still has a vibrant market, it is no longer just a market town. That used to be its unique selling point but today it struggles for an identity and it has to compete with a coastal resorts.

Axminster, however, has many attributes, the friendliness of its people being foremost in my mind. The seaside towns attract more "incomers", a horrible word, and that often causes tensions with the indigenous population.

In recent times the chamber of commerce in Axminster has gone through some rough patches. I filled the role of acting chairman for a few months to keep it going before Fred Wells and then Shane Morgan took over. They both did well to keep the chamber going.

Lisa and Chris set the chamber on a new direction and introduced a number of new ideas. Hundreds of man hours went into shaping a new look chamber. I'm sorry they were not wholly successful but the important thing is that they kept the organisation in being. The trading community should be grateful for that.

SEATON

Hospital LofF backs plans for extra beds

SEATON and District Hospital League of Friends has backed plans to increase the number of in-patient beds in Seaton.

Northern, Eastern and Western Clinical Commissioning Group's (NEW CCG) is consulting on plans to move the current ten beds at Axminster Hospital to Seaton, taking the total number to 18.

The proposal has not gone down well in Axminster, and a campaign group has been formed to try and change the mind of NEW CCG.

Members of the Axminster campaign group has produced a comprehensive document outlining why they think Axminster Hospital is better suited than Seaton Hospital for in-patient beds.

Promoting Seaton's case, the hospital's league of friends has written to NEW CCG. The letter was penned by League of Friends chairman Dr Mark Welland, and said: "As you are aware, the population served by Seaton Hospital is one of the oldest in the region.

"The increased age is matched by increased rates of chronic disease, including dementia and medical frailty.

"The CCG itself has highlighted the demographic projections for the next five years, with increasing numbers of people living to an advanced age.

"Compared to other parts of Devon, our population has greater vulnerability to acute illness, and consequently an increase in the likelihood of hospital admissions.

"For our older population, providing inpatient care close to home adds enormous value. It is for these reasons that Seaton and District Hospital League of Friends wishes to express its support for the proposal to continue providing in-patient care in Seaton."

HONITON

Beehive loan details revealed

FULL details have emerged of the unexpected costs to Honiton Town Council over the construction of the Beehive community centre.

Councillors resolved in June to apply for a loan of up to £100,000 to cover the "unanticipated variations" which put the total expense of the project at more than £2 million.

But a detailed breakdown of the costs has now been revealed, outlining precisely why the council needs the extra money.

The figures, which the council says are based on estimates for a "worst case scenario", reveal a funding gap of just over £98,000.

And the decision to apply for an additional loan was taken as a pre-emptive measure, the council says, to provide a "safety net" in case it cannot pay the bills.

According to an update report by the town clerk, the extra costs range from previously identified surface drainage issues to steel strengthening of the main hall stage. Other changes resulted from "incomplete plans or poor design".

The "worst case" projections put the total cost of the project at just over £2 million, and the report identifies the need to borrow a further £98,000 to ensure the potential costs can be met.

OTTERY St MARY

'Misguided' advice sparks anger

EAST Devon's most senior civil servant has come under fire from Ottery councillors for controversial advice issued following the conclusion of a police investigation into the Graham Brown affair.

In an email to councillors, the district authority's chief executive, Mark Williams, said he understood the police had spoken to Ottery councillor Claire Wright as part of their inquiry into allegations that former member Mr Brown had abused the planning system.

He also suggested that only councillors who could approach the matter with an "open mind" should be involved in future scrutiny of the issues.

Mr Williams was criticised at a council meeting last week, where he was told his actions had been "wholly inappropriate" and "totally misguided".

The storm erupted soon after the police announced they had dropped their investigation into Mr Brown, a former district council member for the Feniton and Buckerell ward, following what the force described as "robust and extensive" enquiries.

Mr Brown was recorded on camera last year as part of a national newspaper sting, implying that he could influence development decisions in his capacity as a planning consultant. But the resulting investigation was dropped last week and a senior officer told Thursday's council meeting there was insufficient evidence to take the inquiry further.

Winnie flies in to boost People's Millions bid

AXMINSTER'S Flamingo Pool stepped up its campaign to net £50,000 from The People's Millions to go towards an aqua gym by welcoming Winnie the eagle and handler Martin Ballam of Xtreme Falconry.

Martin and his wife Tara are keen to support the campaign as their children go to swimming lessons at the pool.

To help drum up support, they brought 12-year-old Canadian bald eagle Winnie to the pool on November 13th. Winnie (named after Canadian city Winnipeg) was an instant hit with staff and visitors, with many taking pictures with their camera phones. Mr and Mrs Ballam are promoting the bid on their company website and have been promised votes from as far away as Scotland.

Mr Ballam said: "We give our customers a blunt reminder that if they don't vote, they'll be fed to the eagles."

Flamingo Pool is up against another bid in its aim for £50,000 from The People's Millions, which is part of The Big Lottery Fund.

The Axminster pool was shortlisted after submitting a bid, including a business plan, and then spoke with People's Millions officials during a teleconference.

An aqua gym is basically a gym in water, with the difference being that it reduces the burden on stress-bearing joints and muscles.

Voting takes place next (Tuesday, November 25th), and the number to call will be published on the day only on The People's Millions website - www.peoplesmillions.org.uk - from 9am, the Daily Mirror, the Flamingo Pool web site and View From Online.

Anyone willing to help promote the campaign is asked to call 01297 35800 or e-mail dana@flamingpool.co.uk

Mayor's U-turn over boycott

-toon was not amusing or satirical.

"The member of public who raised this with me inferred this as a suggestion that a member of this council was conducting an adulterous same-sex relationship with another councillor (not of this parish).

"This was insulting and degrading and possibly actionable."

He also claimed it had been suggested that a Twitter link should be sent to all members of Axminster Town Council.

He added: "This link was to a pornographic website and beggars belief. Given that the group had links to many young people under the age of 16, and that they could well have been receiving this Twitter stream, the potential harm to those we are supposed to safeguarding is incalculable.

"Their action was inexcusable. I will, as ever, talk to any individual at any time - but as a town councillor and your town mayor, I will not outside this chamber have anything to do with any person or persons representing Support for Axminster Library. Inside this chamber I have no choice."

This latest episode is an escalation of a social media war which erupted during the October meeting when town, district and county councillor Andrew Moulding slammed town councillor Paul Hayward for having distributed a cartoon on Facebook poking fun at the county councillor in charge of libraries, Roger Croad.

Support for Axminster Library reacted with fury and chairman Jo Hawkins issued a statement saying: "Support for Axminster Library is sorry to hear that the very real concerns about the continued underfunding of Axminster Library have got sidelined by personal feelings about a political cartoon.

"The group also believes the content of the cartoon and the timing and contents of related tweets have been totally misunderstood. It is a shame that the mayor did not check with the group before he made his statement, but it goes without saying that we have of course never linked our tweets to pornography sites. We welcome everyone to follow us on Twitter. Unless we get a properly funded library, it is not going to cope with the next round of austerity measures."

The cartoonist in question, Jason Chapman, is a member of Support for Axminster Library, but spoke to Pulman in his capacity as a cartoonist only.

He said: "I am keen that the situation regarding the cartoon/tweet which is referred to in the latest town council statement does not continue to be taken out of context and misconstrued.

"It is a shame that the mayor didn't check with the group or myself before he made his statement, which contains very spurious comments.

"Surely, when making such serious allegations, it would have been sensible to have checked with the group before making such potentially damaging comments in a public statement.

"It appears to illustrate the feeling of contempt that certain members of Axminster Town Council actually have for the Support Axminster Library group by not choosing this option." He has also written to councillors Andrew Moulding and Jeremy Walden.

The mayor issued a further statement on Sunday evening, saying: "Further to representations from members of Support for Axminster Library, I would like to note that I understand that the cartoon originally published on Twitter was posted not by this organisation, but by an individual in a personal capacity; although he is a member of Support Axminster Library.

"Similarly, what I described as a link to a pornographic website, posted by another individual who is also a member of Support for Axminster Library, is not a 'link' as such.

"On the Twitter 'conversation' reference was made to a hashtag, and whilst this was not linked, by putting it in that site's search engine does lead one to a pornographic Twitter site.

"One can either put this down to my ignorance of social media, or semantics.

Four schools form new trust focused on improving standards for children

■ FOCUS ON EXCELLENCE: Staff and children of the four local primary schools forming the Acorn Multi Academy Trust

FOUR East Devon primary schools have joined together to create the new Acorn Multi Academy Trust.

Mrs Ethelston's in Uplyme, St Andrew's in Chardstock, Axminster Community Primary School and Marshwood Primary School have converted to academies and have formed the Acorn Multi Academy Trust, which came into effect from November 1st. The schools will leave their respective Local Authorities, Devon and Dorset, to become a free-standing group of schools directly funded from central government. Representatives of local people will be directly responsible for the quality and development of the education of local children.

Whilst the four schools will operate under the umbrella of the Acorn Academy Trust, each will maintain its own distinctive ethos and the parents are reassured that the identity of the three Church of England schools and the one community school will be carefully preserved through the oversight of their individual governing bodies.

This exciting opportunity brings the four schools into a highly effective, close knit, educational organisation which brings enjoyment and success for the pupils and satisfaction and professional development for all the staff.

Tony Harvell, headteacher of Axminster Community Primary, said: "Our school is recognised by Ofsted as a good school but we received a letter from the Department of Education last week informing us that we were in the top five per cent of schools nationally for the Year 1 phonics check. This is outstanding.

"Now we want to be recognised as outstanding in all of our teaching and learning and the governors believe the best way to achieve this is to join with other good and outstanding schools to continue this drive for even more improvement. This is why we are joining with colleagues at Mrs Ethelston's, St Andrew's and Marshwood to form the Acorn MAT where excellence will be the main driver."

Andrea Rice, executive headteacher and CEO of the Acorn MAT, added: "Since the federation of Mrs Ethelston's and St Andrew's we have seen standards continue to improve significantly, and this year both schools have achieved well above the national averages in reading, writing and maths. We have also been able to provide extra opportunities for the children through specialist teaching in areas such as art, music, philosophy, German and Forest Schools.

"The Acorn Multi Academy Trust will give us even more opportunities to improve outcomes for children in all areas of school life by working with a wider group of schools with a similar ethos."

'Urgent and necessary' measures to address CCG's financial situation

THE Northern, Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW Devon CCG) has announced "urgent and necessary" measures to address a worsening of its financial situation.

Patients about to undergo routine surgery must fulfill certain criteria. Last year, the CCG returned a £14.5million deficit, known as a control total, and predicted the same for this year. But its confidence in meeting this at the end of the current financial year has gradually declined as the situation has become clearer; in short, demand for services is outstripping what it can afford.

Rebecca Harriott, the CCG's chief officer, said: "We must act to protect essential services through our busiest winter months and ensure that care is there for our patients when they really need it.

"The CCG has already begun to implement a series of measures designed to improve efficiency in the system and encourage patients to contribute to improving their own health outcomes."

These new measures include the following:

- Requiring morbidly obese patients to lose weight prior to routine surgery

- Requiring smokers to quit for at least six weeks prior to routine surgery
- Introducing criteria-based approval for routine procedures such as hernias, botox injections and cataracts
- Reducing unnecessary consultant-to-consultant referrals
- Suspending treatments where there is little or poor evidence of outcomes

Ms Harriott added: "These measures bring the CCG into line with similar organisations in the NHS. However, they are not enough. The CCG is working up a series of measures to prioritise those patients most in need, while at the same time, increasing efficiency in the wider system – and the CCG itself.

"Our clinical chairs (who are family doctors) and managing directors are now busy working up proposals, in collaboration with NHS England and others."

New book recounts Dalwood during war years

ON Thursday, November 20th, Dalwood-born Valerie Watkins will launch and sign copies of her book "Dear Old Dalwood & District: at the Archway Bookshop, Axminster, from 10am to 12noon.

In the afternoon, she will present copies of her book to students at Colyton Grammar School, her former school.

"Dear Old Dalwood & District" is a unique, personal history of village life during the Depression, WWII until 1960. It is full of pen drawings and photographs covering everything from ploughing competitions to the poignancy and significance of bells rung during wartime.

Tim Pritchard of Archway Bookshop, said: "This book is full of charm. I am astonished by Valerie's amazing memory for people and places and the way she brings these to life through her writing. This is not simply a lively and affectionately personal account of Dalwood life, but a beautifully illustrated ring-side view of the passing of a way of life."

Author Valerie, formerly Valerie Lawrence of Andrewshayes Farm, Dalwood, is a keen amateur genealogist and historian. Now 80, she was a librarian before marriage and four children.

She said: "My book aims to capture the early spirit of Dalwood through the turbulent war years and to give a comprehensive account of the huge changes that happened in Dalwood and all over the country after the war had ended."

"Dear Old Dalwood & District" is available for the discounted price of £9.99 until Christmas at the Archway Bookshop or from the Dalwood Community Shop and Post Office.

Primary school headteacher was unfairly dismissed

A LONG-running dispute involving former All Saints Primary School headteacher Christine Hollidge and education bosses has been settled by an employment tribunal.

The tribunal ruled that Mrs Hollidge was unfairly dismissed because "a reasonable employer would have explored further a phased return to work".

But the tribunal also concluded that those involved may not have been able to put the past behind them, and ruled that it would be just to "reduce any compensatory award by 50 per cent to reflect the likelihood that the employment would, in any event, have terminated fairly in such circumstances".

In short, the school was put under temporary headship on November 11th, 2011 and Mrs Hollidge's absence from the school was initially shrouded in mystery.

The official line early on was that Mrs Hollidge was on sick leave, but it soon emerged there had been some sort of falling out between Mrs Hollidge and the then governing body.

Education bosses later announced Mrs Hollidge had been suspended on full pay when she returned from sick leave.

Shortly after she disappeared from the school, Mrs Hollidge's supporters started a concerned parents' group and hosted a number of public meetings.

They felt that the school, top-rated by OFSTED, was going in a direction that would not be the choice of Mrs Hollidge.

The situation became so bad that it attracted the attention of national media, and police at one stage confirmed that one person involved in the dispute had voluntarily surrendered a firearm.

There was another development in September 2012 when all members of the governing body resigned.

They did so shortly after an investigation apparently paved the way for Mrs Hollidge's return. She didn't return, however, and the matter was taken to an employment tribunal, which sat in Exeter on September 24th, 25th and 26th this year.

Give Your loved One The Gift Of A Fulfilling Life At Rose Lodge Care Home

Imagine the peace of mind you'll feel knowing that your loved one is getting the best possible care in a loving and understanding environment. Located in the delightful seaside town of Exmouth, Rose Lodge is the perfect place for people living with Dementia to experience the highest quality of life.

Caring for someone with dementia yourself can be tiring and often very distressing. Coping with someone whom you may have known and loved for years but who may now often fail to recognise you can be desperately upsetting and difficult to deal with.

Rose Lodge is an active and social home. We have found that people with dementia are generally happier when they are supported to be as active and independent as possible. Our weekly activities programme includes gardening, live music, drama, singing, crafts, a pub quiz, rambling, art, and trips out, as well as individual occupational activities.

So, moving into a home like Rose Lodge is the perfect way for you to give your loved one the best quality of life. In our 2011 relatives survey, all relatives agreed that Rose Lodge offers an excellent quality of care and that their loved one's wellbeing has improved significantly since they joined Rose Lodge. All of them said they would recommend Rose Lodge to their friends.

Dominic, 19, starts his own hi-tech business

DOMINIC Turner, aged 19, from Uplyme has started a new high tech company AirRobot UK Ltd.

Neil Parish MP opened his new premises at Hunthay Farm near Axminster

Mr Parish said: "It gives me great pleasure to open a new business with such a young entrepreneur. This high-tech business will bring a lot of added value to the West Country. I cannot believe the quality of the aerial pictures I have seen today."

Dominic has the UK distributorship for AirRobot and has the backing and resources from the manufacturer. The main company has been supplying the military for over 12 years and is now bringing the aerial platforms into the civilian markets.

Dominic says he has the universal application for surveying, inspection, surveillance to aerial photography at www.airrobot.co.uk

He is licensed by the CAA (Civil Aviation Authority) and can fly up to max 400 ft or 120 metres with his permission for aerial work.

The camera technology payloads include still, video, infrared to thermal cameras with high definition.

Dominic is licensed and is available for hire with his UAV to take that different view from literally four to 400 feet and has set up his photography company Air-RotorMedia UK Ltd to complete this.

Dominic is pictured with Neil Parish MP, Ian Thomas, East Devon District councillor and Thorsten Kanand representing AirRobot.

Orchestra's first concert of the season

The Axe Vale Orchestra's first concert of the season was held in Axminster on October 19th, starting with Ernest Tomlinson's Suite of English Folk Dances, composed in 1954.

This was attractive, mainly gentle music, well played under their conductor, Adrian Carpenter.

It was followed by Sibelius's Karelia Suite in three movements, in which the AVO was joined by players from Colyton Grammar School and conducted by their Head of Music, David House. It was a lively and pleasing performance.

Concert review by Brenda Soothill

Richard Strauss's early work for wind ensemble, Wind Serenade op.7 provided a good contrast.

It gave the players their chance to shine in the single movement containing moments of increasing tension and relaxation and a range of tone colour.

A piece entitled Two Soldiers was an impressive new work by Jesse Wilson, a pupil at Colyton Grammar School.

Very well orchestrated, it showed great promise for the future. It was chiefly sombre in mood, with episodes of more lively music.

He composed it this year, having already written over 40 pieces for various instruments.

David House conducted the last work, six dances from Respighi's music for the ballet The Magic Toyshop, which used melodies from piano music by Rossini.

This made a high-spirited end to a very enjoyable concert.

Blue plaques unveiled in Axmouth

THE latest Rotary blue plaques were unveiled in Axmouth earlier this month.

The project, based on the English Heritage scheme, began in the Seaton District in 2005.

Local houses and sites of historical interest are recognised with the installation of a blue plaque featuring information about the property.

The latest Rotary blue plaque has been placed upon the Toll House at the entrance of Axmouth.

It was built in 1877 at the same time as the first Axmouth Bridge and was one of the very first concrete buildings to be built in England.

It was built to be the toll house in which charges were collected for those who wanted to cross the bridge: 1d per person, 4d for a horse and cart, 1d a leg for a harnessed animal and 1/2d a leg for loose animals.

There are many tales of how locals tried to evade this charge by giving piggybacks, taking horses out of their harnesses and the carts being pulled across by hand!

In September 1907 the tolls were scrapped and the tollgates burned.

The Toll House, presently called Bridge Cottage, is the oldest surviving concrete house in Britain and Axmouth Parish Council felt this fact should be recognised and celebrated.

This has been possible through the Rotary's blue plaque scheme and Rotarians would like to thank the current owner, Mrs White, for giving permission for a plaque to be placed on her property.

Rotarians Doug Smith and Les Andrews for helping worked on where to place the plaque and Councillor Glenn Hyde helped organise the project.

Appeal to help keep Beer's flowers blooming

BEER Horticultural Society is preparing an appeal to secure more funding for the flowers that helped win the village the Gold Cup in the recent Britain in Bloom Awards.

BHS chairwoman Ursula Makepeace revealed that the cost of supplying the flowers, soil, hanging baskets and pots that impressed not just the competition judges but so many visitors to the East Devon village this summer came to £1,295.

"We get donations from local businesses and private individuals towards the flowers but the costs keep going up and we are getting worried," said Mrs Makepeace.

"Unfortunately donations can be hit or miss and have been generally going down in recent years due to the economic situation, so we need to find more money if we are to maintain the high standard," she continued.

The parish council gave a £150 donation towards providing the flowers this year but Mrs Makepeace asked fellow councillors in their monthly meeting on November 4th if they could offer more support.

Councillor Eric Couzens said: "In response she was told to formally prepare an application for a grant. We can discuss this at our next precept meeting."

In the meantime Mrs Makepeace and her colleagues, who all give their time on a voluntary basis, have launched a range of postcards and a 2015 calendar adorned with photos of the flower displays in a bid to increase their funds.

"I think everyone benefits from the flowers, both residents and visitors alike," added Mrs Makepeace.

Christmas tree festival returns

FOLLOWING the success of the first Christmas tree festival in Seaton's United Reformed Church, the URC and Churches Together in Seaton are organising a second event.

Individuals, organisations, businesses, schools and churches are invited to bring along a christmas tree, real or artificial and decorate it in any way they wish, particularly a way that will promote their organisations.

The trees will be displayed all weekend as part of the Christmas festival weekend in the town.

The United Reformed Church Christmas Fayre will be on Saturday, December 6th from 10am-4pm. The Christmas tree festival will run from Friday, December 5th at 4pm until Sunday, December 7th. Refreshments will be available.

Beer news in brief

BEER residents are getting their chance to have their say in the future of the village after questionnaires were posted to every household this week.

The survey asks a wide range of questions on life in the village, ranging from leisure facilities, attractions for tourists, green energy and provision of housing.

The responses will be collated in the production of the Beer Neighbourhood Plan which will be a vital guide in controlling development in the village for the next 15 years.

Completed forms can be handed into the post office and can also be filled on-line via access from the parish council website at www.beer-parish-council.org.uk

The deadline for submitting forms is Friday November 21st.

New Beer vicar to be installed

THE new vicar of Beer Congregational Church will be officially ordained on Saturday (November 22nd) at 2pm.

Wendy Le Huray arrived in the village in September to get acquainted with her first parish job after graduating with a Foundation Arts degree in Practical Theology through Winchester University and the Congregational Federation.

"I am absolutely loving it here and it is such a wonderful church," said Wendy.

"It is a very friendly church and the community spirit is very strong. I really feel at home here."

Wendy was a former arts and drama teacher before deciding to embark on a six-year course to become a vicar, the last four of which she has been working as a student minister on the Scottish Borders, near

by Kevin Fahey

Carlisle. Running her own church was the next step and Wendy admits it also feels a little like coming home.

"As you might tell from the surname I married a Guernsey man (John Le Huray) and he helps editing the church magazine," added Wendy.

"So it seems like we are slowly getting closer to home!"

To help Wendy celebrate her ordination Len Rawle will be travelling down especially from his home in Herefordshire to play the famous Beer Wurlitzer organ, which is England's oldest Wurlitzer cinema organ.

Web site honours war dead

A FANTASTIC website which pays homage to the men and women who served their country in World War I has been rolled out to include the heroes of Beer.

Devon Remembers - www.devonremembers.co.uk - is a permanent digital memory to the people from the Clinton Devon Estates towns and villages who served Britain during the Great War of 1914-18.

The website, which has been funded by the Lord Clinton Charitable Trust and Clinton Devon Estates, initially covered Budleigh Salterton, East Budleigh, Newton Popleford, Otterton, Colaton Raleigh and two villages in North Devon.

But when Lady Caroline Fowle visited an exhibition in Beer during the summer organised by local historian Richard Scott and Peter Anderson to mark the outbreak of WWI she realised the website needed to be updated.

"I was bowled over by Richard's exhibition in Beer," said Lady Caroline.

"I think it is fantastic for the people of this community to be able to find out about their ancestors."

The website has now been updated to include details of all the 80 men from Beer who served during WWI with heart-rending stories such as that of Stanley Westlake of Myrtle Cottage, who was captured by the Turks in the siege of Kut and 'disappeared' for two years before news of him still being alive was reported in Pulman's Weekly News on February 19th 1918.

"We are filling in the gaps to make sure these remarkable stories aren't left untold," said Mr Scott.

The website is interactive and family and friends are being encouraged to log on and contribute their own memories and stories.

Grammar school hosts sports festival for primary students

COLYTON Grammar School recently hosted a multi-skills sports festival for Key Stage 1 pupils from primary schools in the surrounding Axe Valley community.

Nine schools, including 220 children aged from four to seven, took part in a day-long variety of activities aimed at developing key sporting skills.

Year 12 Sports Leaders from the grammar school ran the day with 12 disciplines all designed to improve agility, balance or co-ordination and to support the PE lessons the children have back in their own schools.

PE teacher Anne Harris, who organised the event in her role as Axe Valley Schools' Sports Co-ordinator, said: "I'm thrilled that so many children and members of staff were able to attend. The energy and enthusiasm of the Sports Leaders ensured it was a very successful event."

Funeral directors present certificates for nursing staff

SEATON-based funeral directors, Overmass & Chapple, were delighted to give Certificates of Attendance to Seaton & District Nursing Staff following a presentation on continuation of care.

Nursing Staff from care homes around Seaton, Colyton and the neighbouring areas were given the opportunity to attend a continuation of care presentation delivered by local funeral directors Julian and Karen Hussey and Jerry Parkhouse.

Mr Hussey said: "We feel that if nursing staff are better prepared and given a greater understanding of how we as funeral directors continue with the excellent care of a loved one, it will help them in their role, giving confidence and assurance that the very best support is available when needed."

During the presentation, Julian, Karen and Jerry showed attendees the facilities on site, discussed all aspects of arranging and conducting a funeral, the paperwork involved and followed this with what is always a lively question and answer session.

Feedback from presentations has included comments such as "this has allowed us to discuss how our residents are looked after and was greatly received", "great to know you continue the care that we pride ourselves on - it was of great comfort", and "this has ensured that our staff have a better understanding that the funeral director's role is a continuation of care and support to the families of loved ones".

Overmass & Chapple is Seaton's longest established funeral directors and has been caring for the community since 1869, ensuring a dignified and professional service is carried out at all times.

Funerals have changed in many ways over recent years, the most important change being an increase in family involvement within the service and arrangements, but local residents often find it difficult to travel to the crematorium for a service so the funeral directors' service room in Seaton has proved a popular venue for the funeral of a loved one.

Any care providers interested in attending the next presentation should call 01297 20644.

Funding to rejuvenate overgrown land at Shute

THE Charity of Arthur Hitchcock has secured funding to clear and restore an area of land adjacent to the Shute road between Shute and Kilmington, bordering Mount Hungry.

A £4,400 grant from the Big Lottery Fund and more than £1,200 from the East Devon District Council's Parishes Together Fund, including contributions from Kilmington and Shute parish councils, has been granted to the project.

Charity trustee Carol Miltenburg explained: "At present, most will drive by the land not noticing it as it so overgrown. The charity was formed in the 1930s by Arthur Hitchcock to prevent it being developed and was left a small bequest for its maintenance.

"Over the years the land has gradually declined and the trees have become swamped by laurel and rhododendron. There are magnificent trees such as mature money puzzles, oaks and conifers which cannot be seen easily due to this amount of undergrowth which has also killed off the plants that should be there."

The cleared area will be allowed to regenerate its own natural woodland flora over the coming years.

Carol added: "The money from the grants will be used to remove the laurel and rhododendron, create areas of seating and a path to allow easier access for all.

"The trustees want the area to be used by local residents as it links in to nearby bridleways and footpaths and will be ideal as a stop off on circular walks from Kilmington and Shute.

"We have also had the support of the local schools, scout and brownie groups, Umberne Ladies and Mr Seward, the owner of Mount Hungry, as well as the parish councils and our district and county councillors, which is really important to the project and we hope that the restored woodland will encourage all to come out and just enjoy nature."

■ EAGER TO LEARN: Beech Class pupils at Offwell School were delighted to be visited by a Honiton lace maker. Sheila Lanning, who is a grandmother to two of the school's pupils, has been making Honiton lace for many years. She told the children all about the history of the lace, showed examples of her intricate work and let them all have a go.

Catenians fundraise in memory of former member

PAST president of Axminster Catenians, Nat Bruzon, and fellow members have been raising funds for his chosen charity over the 2013/14 year in memory of John Dalziel, a former member of recently died after being diagnosed with motor neurone disease.

With the encouragement of John's widow Vivienne, the local Catenians made a magnificent response to Mr Bruzon's appeal for funds for research into the disease, and £1,169 was raised.

At a recent ladies' night dinner, a cheque for the total amount was presented to Patrick Bagg, the treasurer of the West Somerset Area of the Motor Neurone Disease Association.

Devonshire Association explore war memorials

JUST a day after local gunfire, marking the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month armistice, members and guests of the Devonshire Association Axe Valley branch assembled at Colyton's aptly named Peace Memorial Pavilion to hear Sidmouth art historian Diane Hughes speak on "The First World War - Remembrance and Aftermath".

Her well-illustrated talk was punctuated with readings from the war poets and views of the memorial designs which became part of the civic landscape all over Britain through the 1920s.

Diane reckoned that something over 4,000 villages, town and cities have memorials to the war dead, compared with just 53 "thankful villages" - small communities where all the boys sent to war returned as survivors in 1918.

She had not found any such fortunate place in Devon but picked out several county settlements with more than usually striking memorials. Colyton had made for her camera a "potent image", while nearby Salcombe Regis was most moving because its seven names from such a tiny settlement must have constituted such a large proportion of its farm workers.

Further afield in Devon, the speaker had been particularly struck by the Lustleigh memorial made of one huge granite boulder brought down from Dartmoor. She ranged over war graves in France, Belgium and Gallipoli as well as the Whitehall Cenotaph and the tomb of the unknown warrior in Westminster Abbey. And she lingered over the remarkable and expensive Liverpool masterpiece with soldiers marching off to war on one side and women mourning on the other.

But Diane's favourite was the specially expressive one beside No 1 platform at Paddington, remembering the fallen of the Great Western Railway and showing a soldier reading a letter from home.

Turning to poetry, Diane read Rudyard Kipling's bitter verse "The Children". His son Jack was rejected by the military for poor eyesight but the patriotic writer pulled strings and his boy was enabled to go to France and be killed in action.

The audience's eyes moistened as she reached the last line, "But who shall return us our children".

Keeping with a war theme the next talk on December 10th will be given by Sean Day-Lewis remembering "Dad's Army in the Axe Valley". Guests are welcome.

A mix of modern and traditional techniques in art demonstration

USING modern decorators' brushes and acrylic paints, James Tatum nevertheless employed 500-year-old know-how, respecting the traditions of painting - tone, perspective and colour - to demonstrate at the November meeting of the Seaton & District Art Society.

Working from his sketches made on Dartmoor, the Lustleigh artist stressed the crucial nature of structure in creating a painting.

He worked vigorously across the whole painting showing how to "be bold at the start and bolder at the finish". He assured a gripped audience that structure and composition are crucial and they give you the chance to make a successful painting.

Normally he would use graphite to establish the structure but for the society he started with the simplest of bold outlines in charcoal on a heavy watercolour paper. He mostly used three-inch brushes and warned against getting into details which he said are the icing on the cake.

His "therapeutic" banging down of the brush on the painting caused some intakes of breath by his audience but he said acrylic is versatile, you can re-state it - you can cover it up. His audience applauded both his dry humour and his panache with the paint.

James' two demonstration sketches revealed his passion for Dartmoor. When working on board for his finished paintings he said 75 per cent of the work is in the looking, walking, sketching and thinking.

The December meeting of the society will be the AGM in Seaton Town Hall on December 1st. The New Year starts with "Art at your Fingertips" by Graham Watson who will work in water-based oils on January 5th from 2pm to 4pm in Seaton Town Hall. Visitors are always welcome, £3.

Women's Institutes ROUND UP

AXE RIVER

AXE River WI members and guests were treated to an exciting evening during their October meeting when Rosie Beer, guest speaker and demonstrator, showed everyone the wonders of sugarcraft and the art of making flowers as decorations for cakes using sugar paste.

Rosie informed members that she had been decorating cakes since she was 16 and was extremely skilful. Once the demo was over she gave everyone a box containing just what was needed for them to make their own flowers and leaves to take home.

For more information on the Axe River WI, based in Axminster, contact president Ann Keane on 01297 598953. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of every month at the Methodist Church Hall, Lyme Road, Axminster with the next being today (November 18th) at 7.30pm - all are welcome to attend.

HONITON AFTERNOON

AT their November meeting the Honiton Afternoon WI welcomed Tom Coleman who gave an illustrated talk on the history of East Devon farmhouses.

Members were shown how the old farmhouses, which had first been built in the 16th and 17th centuries, changed over the years. From very basic beginnings, the farmhouses were single-storey, long buildings with the animals in one half and the family in the other half eating and sleeping in the one room. They had a fire in the middle of the room but there were no chimneys at that time.

At a later date the animals were moved out of the farmhouses and it became possible for the families to have their living accommodation on the ground floor and the bedroom on the floor above. Chimney flues were also installed. In the 1800s architects became involved in the building of the farmhouses and, from then on, a wide variety of dwellings became available.

On October 15th three members attended the Devon Federation of WIs autumn council meeting at the Queens Theatre in Barnstaple. There were various very interesting presentations and the guest speaker for the afternoon was Miranda Krestovnikoff from BBC's "Coast". She gave an illustrated talk entitled "A Whistle Stop Tour Around The Coast" which was most entertaining.

The next meeting will be on December 8th at 2pm in the Methodist Chapel, when Kirsty Parker from Waitrose in Sidmouth will give a talk on cheese. Visitors are always very welcome to attend.

COLYFORD

THE November meeting of Colyford WI was opened by president Margaret Nicholson, extending a warm welcome to members and visitors alike.

Margaret then introduced the speaker, local councillor Ken Clifford who proceeded to entertain with a vivid description of the life and times of a very well-known local gypsy couple, Tommy and Priscilla James Cooper, who lived in their caravan on Colyton Common and were known locally for their activities, Tommy as a "horse whisperer" and Priscilla for her hedgerow herbal cures and as a famous singer of Romany folk songs. Ken even played a recording of Priscilla singing.

Margaret Burrows treated members to one of her biographies, this time of long-standing member Jean Cochran. Jean has been a WI member for 56 years and had a very varied and exciting working life, including working for Tiny Rowlands as his secretary at Lonro. Jean has always been a member of a choir wherever she has lived and still has singing lessons now.

Details were given members of forthcoming trips including a trip to Salisbury for the Christmas market, Chatterbox at Colyton Garden Shop in November, and Otter Nurseries in December. Details were also given of the Christmas party. Flower of the Month was won by Maggie Horrell.

Visitors are always warmly welcomed, and the meetings are held on the first Wednesday of the month at 2.30pm in Colyford Memorial Hall.

HONITON EVENING

FOUR new members were welcomed at the October meeting of Honiton Evening WI and were straightaway given the choice, along with everyone else, of making either a reindeer, robin or Christmas pudding decoration in felt, ably guided by two committee members.

Afterwards, the business part of the evening started with a report on the recent group meeting of six local WIs when Honiton Evening WI won the cup for the competition of an outrageously decorated Victoria sponge, by Jean Donald. Some members had also enjoyed a home-cooked curry one evening at a fellow member's home.

Looking to future events, names were taken of those wishing to see the "White Christmas" musical in Torquay later in November, and in December the Christmas meal will be at the White Horse Inn, Woodbury Salterton. Plans were also made to attend one of the National Trust Killerton's evening meals in December.

As far as participation in Devon WI's events was concerned, members agreed to meet for a meal in Exeter prior to the annual carol service at the cathedral in early December and names were taken of those wishing to participate when the National WI's Centenary Baton arrives from Cornwall in February for a week in Devon before being passed to Somerset.

The next meeting of Honiton Evening WI will be tonight (November 18th) when members will go by coach to Axminster for a tour of Complete Meats. The next meeting at the Methodist Chapel in Honiton will be a Christmas party at 7.15pm on Tuesday, December 9th.

Arada's cake sale for Pudsey

MEMBERS of staff from Axminster based stove manufacturer Arada, raised a rocketing £363 for Children in Need. The team whisked up some delicious cakes and sweet treats for a charity bake sale, which were then sold to fellow members of staff and factory workers. Arada's fundraisers thanked all who helped make the day a success and did their bit to support their baking event

Looking for information before we make any decision on "our" hospital

■ OTTERY St Mary people have been working closely with "our" hospital right from the time almost 150 years ago when Mrs Gilbert Eliot came to the town and worked with local GP Dr Whitby to set up Ottery's first Cottage Hospital.

In those days, of course, it was more what we would recognise as a care home with an attendant GP than a modern healthcare facility with its inpatient beds, out-patients and day-cases, teams of trained nurses, physiotherapists, X-ray, pharmacists, dementia assessment and care, and all the other services that we demand in 2014.

Since the hospital moved in 1994 from a cramped Victorian town centre building to its new purpose-built site with ample car-parking, room for expansion, bus stop right outside, and 24 beds in modern warm, clean wards, Ottery people have put more than £1.4million into our hospital to provide additional support and resources as the needs of patients and their families have changed. Perhaps more importantly, people have given thousands of irreplaceable hours of voluntary service with everything from running the hospital shop to re-staining the garden furniture so that patients have somewhere to sit and recuperate in the Devon sunshine.

And now we're at a point of change, perhaps even more fundamental than when our hospital moved from its original site in the town. Our GPs, the people we trust without question in the consulting room, are telling us that East Devon as a whole would be better off with its in-patient beds concentrated in Exmouth, Seaton, Sidmouth and Honiton; our hospital would lose its beds and become a "health and wellbeing centre".

Most of us know more about the day-to-day activity of "Holby City" than we do about that of a community hospital, so it's really hard to picture "our" hospital without in-patient beds. We're told that people over 85 need more support from the hospital system than do any other age ranges, and here we have more people over 85 than most other parts of the country with the proportions set to increase, so that's why Ottery should lose its in-patient beds.

Yet people under 85 – teenagers, young mothers, the middle-aged, the only-just-frail elderly – need hospital services too. And while no one wants to stay overnight in hospital unless they really need to, when that has to happen, the large city-based acute district general hospitals are rarely anyone's first choice – through no fault of their own, they're more like the high-overheads mass-production factories of the 1970s than efficient, effective 21st century centres of high-quality community-focused healthcare. What if instead we had more community hospital beds, not less?

So the League of Friends is looking for information to help us make an informed choice. How do primary care services work alongside RD&E and social services from Devon County Council? What do East Devon people go to hospital for? What treatment do they need, how long do they stay, how far do they have to travel, how do they access social care and support when they leave hospital, and, perhaps more importantly, how can they be helped to avoid needing in-patient medical intervention in a hospital in the first place? What does it cost to staff and run a ward for a year, in Ottery, in Sidmouth and in Exeter? What actually happens at a "health and well-being centre"?

When we know the answers, we'll make up our minds. But make no mistake, just because we're listening now and not shouting, that doesn't mean we're not passionate about "our" town's hospital in whatever form we need it to be. We just like to think first.

Chairman, Ottery St Mary Hospital

What's holding up the Local Plan?

■ AS a resident of East Devon I am concerned that the progress towards completion of a Local Plan by East Devon District Council is painfully slow.

The latest progress report of October 21st makes for depressing reading. The report does not even provide a specific date for proposed adoption but vaguely suggests that it will be late 2015. Even this vague date of late 2015 is subject to a number of caveats – one being that "major new issues do not arise and if plan changes are appropriate they are not of a significant scale or nature". Are we really in the position that we still do not know if major new issues are yet to arise?

I wonder what planning inspector Anthony Thickett thinks of EDDC's progress. Despite an assurance on August 22nd that he would be provided with a much fuller update on the work programme within two weeks of that date he did not receive anything from EDDC for some eight weeks. If every deadline slips in this way then the Local Plan will not be completed for years at this rate.

The latest information revealed by the planning inspectorate at the end of October reveals that 60 per cent of councils across the country have either an adopted or sound Local Plan. Why is EDDC not within this 60 per cent?

I do not believe that planning issues are any more complex in East Devon than anywhere else in this country. Why then have the Conservative leadership at EDDC failed to ensure the completion of the Local Plan unlike so many of their peers?

With no Local Plan in place, EDDC has very limited ability to control development within the district and this unsatisfactory situation must be rectified as a matter of urgency.

All these changes will make Seaton a 'better and more attractive place'

■ I AM writing with respect to the proposed overspill car park next to the Underfleet in Seaton.

A month ago Seaton Jurassic broke ground. It's still early days for this exciting project but many people never thought we would get this far. Seaton Jurassic will bring many benefits to the town and will enhance the quality of the area's green space. Large areas of what is currently sterile tarmac will be turned into wildlife gardens and play areas.

Concern has been raised by numerous businesses and residents that the car parking provision was being reduced too much. As a result, the council has identified an area for potential overspill parking adjacent to the Underfleet car park. Efforts will be made to make the new overspill car park as green as possible and we will explore the option of using a sustainable surface material rather than the standard tarmac.

Any loss of trees will be more than compensated for by the new perimeter planting with shrubs and trees to complement the perimeter of the Seaton Jurassic site itself. Even with this extra parking there will be considerably more green space and less tarmac in the centre of Seaton than there is now.

Nobody wants to see areas of grass and trees turned into tarmac, and it is entirely understandable that those living nearby will have concerns. But I believe this is a sensible compromise in a difficult situation. I therefore believe we should not stand in the way of the council's proposals.

The result of all these changes will, I believe, make Seaton a better and more attractive place in the longer term, but like any changes it will bring some discomfort and disruption in the short term. Those of us involved in the project will do all we can to keep this to a minimum. I am grateful to all the residents of Seaton for their patience, understanding and support.

Shouldn't be a battle between hospitals

■ I SHOULD like to reply if I may, admittedly a tad late, to your edition of October 28th, which I have only just had the opportunity to read.

Why should the issue of numbers of beds be a "battle" between two excellent local hospitals - Axminster and Seaton? Are not both of them perfectly worthy of being fully funded to continue giving the exemplary service that they have always provided?

My mother was cared for in Seaton Hospital as an in-patient in 1999 before she died from a double stroke, and I can't praise the nursing staff highly enough for their level of care for her, while she was there. My elderly father had two cataract operations at Axminster Hospital in 2004/5, and although a day patient, again the level of care was second to none.

Axminster resident Sandy Sinclair wants to know why Seaton is preferred because it does not have an all-round catchment area because of the sea. Perhaps she would be happier if they offered an A&E service to mermaids, or 10 per cent off to sailors? At least

Dr Slott seems to have rather more of a grasp upon geometry.

This all started because just one senior nurse was on duty in each hospital at any one time, when commonsense dictates that there should be two. If the NHS was not top heavy with administrators, perhaps they could afford to fund that. And speaking of which, just who or what are the NEW CCG? Well, they say that they are the NHS Northern, Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group. Perhaps one could be excused for asking just where does South Devon feature in all this, although they do say that Axminster and Seaton are included.

In addition, they state that "risk management is everybody's business". A bold statement, but like every Quango, not likely to be lived up to. The beds of both hospitals need to be protected, and it is their job to do so, else they will be held to account.

Which Spillers were you referring to?

■ FURTHER to the letter from Ms N. Chance in your edition of November 4th, I would make the following points:

I married into a local, well-known and respected Spiller family, of which there are many in this area. I am also a member of Axminster Town Council.

Would the author of that letter please explain to my family and the readers of your publication what she meant by her comments about the Spillers and to whom she was referring?

Investing in Seaton's seafront should be priority

■ I READ with dismay about the ideas for sculptures at Fisherman's Gap.

We really must prioritise investing in Seaton's primary asset, which is the seafront, and this is all wrong.

If and when the cycle path is complete to Colyford, then we will be near to maximising the benefit of the other key visitor attraction, the wonderful wetlands. However, vis-a-vis the seafront, it is so 1950s!

Have a look at facilities in Poole Harbour or Blackpool Sands in South Devon. This is what we need. People want contemporary and more up-market places to eat and drink whilst relaxing and taking in the views of the sea and the cliffs.

Currently, there is absolutely nowhere to sit in quality surroundings to enjoy a good coffee and look at the sea. The best you can get is the view of a roundabout and the visually moribund sea defences. This is simply not good enough!

The natural assets that Seaton benefits from in my opinion beat anything for miles around, so let's ensure that the built environment and visitor attractions support this.

MANY will have mixed feelings this week after their reactions at the recent Remembrance services – if our newspapers are any guide – one filled a supplement of 80 pages.

Now returning to local surroundings the scene for many thoughts of the election of the first woman bishops – in the Anglican Church to be at Gloucester, Newcastle or Oxford.

Women bishops become the law during the present session of General Synod and local meetings have been arranged for December 2nd and 3rd. The Crown appointments Nominations Committee expects action before the start of 2015. One to be appointed is at Oxford and it is felt that it will not be left vacant long; there is no shortage of able women to fill the posts.

In the meantime Archbishop Welby is completing a visit to the province of West Africa, completing his last leg of tours to Anglican Primates with the aim to express solidarity of the work of the Anglican Church with the work of Anglican Provinces. This trip included a visit to the Primus of the Episcopal Church of Scotland.

All is not peace all the time. The Primate of the Peace of the Church of Uganda has repeated calls for parliament to reinstate the Anti-Homosexuality Act, which was only passed in February.

The exact anniversary of Remembrance plans when warfare no longer took place, was held in East Devon at 11am on Tuesday, November 11th when church standards across the county were dipped and the Act of Remembrance was read, the young then returned to school.

Local events continue and several local groups recently received cash donations from Axminster's Virtue and Honour Masonic Lodge at their annual service.

St Nicholas' Church bell fund has been greatly helped by a recent bell fund talk.

St Paul's Chapel in Honiton appears likely to be the next venue of the Honiton Ukulele Group with a meeting on November 20th, 6.30pm to 8.30pm.

And now to Ottery St Mary – excitement grows over the Churches Together in Ottery display and others are preparing their Christmas tree contributions for the festival at the parish church. The Reverend Steve Weston will be explaining in his introduction in the programme just how and why these interpretations are important for the church and our community to show what a celebration of what Christmas means. Do join us between November 26th and 30th. Refreshments will be available at certain times.

A Christmas Bazaar will be held on November 29th from 10am to 12.30pm in the Institute in Ottery. Do come along to see what goodies you can buy and to meet a wide variety of people from the town.

Coffee & Chat continues on Tuesday mornings from 10am to 11.30am where a growing number of people come to socialise.

St Paul's in Honiton is holding a grand Christmas tree celebration from December 11th to 14th. Christmas goods are welcome.

Darrell Holmes writes: "A week ago today we remembered the 100 years since the start of WWI. Churches were crowded on Remembrance Sunday, as many non-churchgoers marked this poignant occasion.

"Why are churches at the heart of this event? It is because the church is often called upon to mark a new birth, marriage, funeral and events of national importance. It is also because the words of the Bible point to a time of hope when God will judge between nations and will settle disputes for many nations.

"Nation will not take up sword against nation, nor will they train for war any more" (Isaiah ch 2 v 4). Churches are the guardians of peace that will one day come on earth."

Shirley Ann Williams writes: "What should our aim in life be? That's a fundamental question if ever there was one. One that we're all bound to ask ourselves sooner or later. And the answer is never going to be simple.

"But part of it – and an important part – will be found in our Lord's parable of the talents. The talent Jesus was talking about was the biggest unit of currency at the time. The metaphorical use of the word actually comes from the parable, which is really stewardship. About the way we develop the gifts that God has given us. Because we do need to develop them – as Jesus makes clear. And not just for our own benefit, but in the service of God and our neighbour. And what a challenge that is!

HOMES AUTUMN and Gardens

LET THESE LOCAL BUSINESSES MAKE YOUR HOUSE A HOME & YOUR GARDEN GLORIOUS

Top 8 winter gardening tips

1. Dig over your soil

The essential spring job is digging and preparing, just as long as the ground isn't waterlogged or frozen. Digging and forking the soil allows you to loosen it, remove weeds and add compost or manure, which will improve soil structure and create a moisture and food reserve for plants.

2. Prune your shrubs

"The most important job for me is pruning and shaping our shrub roses. Start by removing any dead or diseased branches, prevent damage by cutting back sections which rub against each other and reduce exceptionally long branches by one third of their length."

3. Reininvigorate your lawn

"Dig a trial pit and find out what is going on underneath the grass itself. Check for moss and thatch (the dying grass) and then start mowing, wedding and feeding."

4. Spruce up your garden path

"It's time to spruce up the garden path and bring it back to life with a good old-fashioned sweep. Grab a stiff brush and start clearing paths of moss, lichen and weeds."

5. Protect your garden from frost

Protect any tender herbs from frost. January and February are usually the coldest months. Bay, myrtle, olive and French lavender can be brought undercover or near the house if in containers, or covered in fleece in situ. Put a cloche over thyme you use for cooking and it will stay leafier. Prune wisteria and grape vines if they have not been done already. On any frost-free days, plant bare root or container trees, shrubs, hedging, fruit bushes and canes.

MANOR Antiques Restorations is a family run business with 20 years experience in the restoration and preservation of antique and period furniture.

The traditional craftsman's skills that they can offer range from veneering, marquetry, parquetry, cabinet making, wood turning, French polishing and sympathetic repairs, from the smallest scratch to the complete restoration of a piece of furniture.

In Manor Antiques' fully equipped work shop they are able to take on commissions for pieces of new or reproduction furniture made to the customers requirements.

They have an extensive portfolio which shows the high standard of work which is available for customers to look at to see the transformation of a restored piece of furniture. Manor Antiques also offer a carpentry and joinery service with items ranging from an ornamental oak front door, interior doors made from hard or soft wood, to fancy oak or pine plate racks. Their range is extensive and exclusive to your requirements. They can be found at Ellishayes, Coombe Raleigh which is on the Honiton to Dunkeswell road.

Top 8 winter gardening tips

6. Create natural food for wildlife

For wildlife, consider planting native trees and shrubs such as guelder rose, yew, holly, hawthorn or blackthorn. Berries will provide natural bird food and cover for nesting and roosting is always needed.

7. Provide for the birds

Birds need a range of food provided in different ways and kept as clean as possible. Water is just as important as natural resources freeze up - create a pond or water feature and make sure birdbaths stay ice-free (a floating ball does the job, and if it freezes take the ball out to leave a hole).

8. Make a home for mini beasts

Create leaf piles in quiet corners of the garden border or leave a swathe of grass uncut; these offer mini-beasts places to spend the winter and provide ground feeding birds somewhere to forage. To help birds with springtime nesting, put out the fur from pet grooming so that birds can use the fur and line their nests (February and March and onwards)

Eden Garden Developments

EDEN Garden Developments make finding a contractor simple by providing for all clients' Garden Design, Construction & Care requirements, large and small locally. The Design & Build unit of A1 Environmental Services, offers a friendly, professional, integrated service.

Installing all types of Fencing, Gates and Decking, Walling and Patios, Eden offers a complete landscaping service including Lawns Horticulture and Aquatics, either as a package or in affordable stages.

A timely example, given the present gusty conditions, is fencing where this can either be repaired or replaced, depending upon condition and the budget available. This can be either post and panel, close board, post and rail or picket fencing and Eden also supply and fit gates (see insets). In fact "cost leadership" is at the forefront of the business whilst keeping quality and the principles of design paramount.

Business founder, designer and artisan craftsman Norman Brown holds an MSc. in Environmental Planning & Management and has contributed to books, periodicals and the gardening press. Further information can be obtained by calling 01297 23596 (mobile 07977 415446) or visiting the web pages at a1-environmental.com

Val Davis Traditional Acupuncture

Acupuncture can improve and maintain health and energy and enhance a sense of well-being

ACCORDING to traditional Chinese philosophy, our health is dependent on the body's motivating energy (qi) moving in a smooth and balanced way through a series of channels beneath the skin.

Acupuncture can affect the quality of qi, your body's vital energy, by the insertion of very fine needles into specific points along these channels. This stimulates the body's healing response and restores natural balance. Treatment is aimed at the root cause of your condition as well as your main symptoms. This approach helps with resolving your problem and enhancing your feeling of well-being. You may notice other nagging problems resolve as your main health complaint improves.

The type of conditions that I mostly see in my clinics include the following: arthritis, back pain and sciatica, poor circulation, low energy levels, hormonal/menopausal symptoms, pregnancy management, fertility problems, weight management, and addictions such as smoking. However, you don't have to be ill in the conventional sense to benefit from acupuncture, sometimes people come to see me because they are feeling low, unwell in themselves, or maybe not sleeping as well as they would like to.

Professional Acupuncturists spend at least 3 years training at degree level to become an Acupuncturist. We are then entitled to join the British Acupuncture Council and to use the letters Lic.Ac., B.Ac.C after our names. We also have public liability and professional indemnity insurance. Many of us have also studied at post-graduate level and are constantly updating our skills and experience.

So, why not give me a ring and see if I can help.

Lindy Parry Chiroprapist

I HOLD my private chiroprapy clinic at Townsend House Surgery in Seaton on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

I offer a range of treatments from a simple nail cut to nail surgery, and each treatment plan is priced accordingly.

The nail cutting only service is a shorter appointment and is ideal for those that don't have any other foot care needs. Others like to alternate nail cuts with chiroprapy treatments as it best suits their requirements. I always aim to work with the patient to find the best treatment plan to suit each individual. Patients feet are then monitored during treatment so that changes can be made should the need arise.

Diabetic patients who attend for chiroprapy will also have a diabetic foot assessment carried out during their first treatment, and will then be monitored and re-assessed as necessary.

My chiroprapy clinics are available to anybody seeking help with their feet and Townsend House and I look forward to welcoming you.

Bookings can be made by calling 01297 22956.

Axminster Health & Wellbeing Centre

THE Axminster Health and Wellbeing Centre is housed within a grade II listed building in the heart of Axminster. We offer a wide range of complementary therapies including acupuncture, counselling, hypnotherapy, holistic and sports injury massage, precision reflexology, nutritional advice and more. All of our therapists are fully qualified and insured. We also offer yoga and meditation classes as well as talks and workshops. Currently we are hosting a breathing workshop run by Steve Darch from The Natural Breathing Training Company.

We currently have rooms available to rent. There are five well equipped and comfortable therapy rooms, some with sinks and couches. As well as a larger room that seats up to 30 for a talk or workshop or could be used for a small exercise class. The reception desk is generally manned between 9 and 5 Monday to Friday. Our prices are amongst the most competitive in the area starting from just £5 per hour.

At the Centre we aim to offer a broad range of complementary therapies and look to attract new practitioners. Currently we would be very interested in hearing from shiatsu practitioners, chiropractors and osteopaths. If you are interested please give us a call.

We are pleased to announce that a kinesiology practitioner will be joining us in the New Year. We also plan to host an art therapy workshop in February.

We are also looking to recruit more volunteers to assist with the smooth running of the Centre. If you would like to be part of a community based charity, are retired or want to return to work and update your administration skills please give us a call.

Michelle Hague Hypnotherapy

Working with CFS & Fibromyalgia

ONE important thing to recognise is that Fibromyalgia (FMS) and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS) are not the same illness with a different name (though they do share some of the same symptoms).

Both illnesses can only be diagnosed by subtraction and it is possible that one will be diagnosed as the other occasionally.

Because there are many other diseases that have similar symptoms, the other diseases have to be ruled out first.

This means that some - not all - people eventually 'classified' as suffering from CFS or FMS have had to undergo various procedures, including blood and urine tests, colonoscopies, endoscopies, MRI and Ultrasound, etc, in order to eliminate many of the similar conditions. It is current thinking that a particularly severe viral infection can 'trigger' the onset of CFS or FMS, though PVS doesn't always lead to CFS, and there is much ongoing collaborative research underway.

These illnesses, FMS particularly, have been referred to as the 'rubbish bin of symptoms' for good reason; if you can think of a symptom, there's a very good chance that it will feature in FMS or CFS. The one major difference between the two appears to be the symptom of pain.

FMS has bags of it and in fact one of the criteria for diagnosis is pain in all four quadrants of the body - left side, right side, above the waist and below the waist. Other than pain (which may well occur with CFS though will be less severe) there is one other symptom that tends to be specific, this time to CFS and that is paleness. Many who suffer CFS are extremely pale and it could be thought that they were suffering from Anaemia.

Current research has found that suffers of CFS and associated conditions can benefit from learning mindfulness, self hypnosis, doing paced and regular activity (exercise) and learning CBT techniques combining this with hypnosis helps many people progress more quickly challenging the limiting behaviour and thinking and finding new ways of managing and coping.

Kath Woods Mindfulness

MINDFULNESS

MINDFULNESS means maintaining a moment-by-moment awareness of our thoughts, feelings, bodily sensations, and surrounding environment, without judging them.

How Does Mindfulness Help?

- You learn to notice the world around you, sharpen your concentration, become more appreciative of the good things in your life, and kinder towards yourself and others.
- There is a lot of evidence of benefit for people with stress, anxiety and depression, and in reducing the impact of chronic illness.
- It can often dramatically reduce chronic pain.
- It can strengthen the immune system and lower blood pressure.

Meditation calms the areas of the brain that produce stress hormones and activates those that lift mood and help with learning. People who practise mindfulness often feel more serene about life in general.

Rachel Rendell Healer & Psychic Medium

I AM a psychic medium giving private readings and Clairvoyant demonstrations. I run several development and meditation groups and workshops.

Readings

Connect with your loved ones in a private reading. My reading for you will bring precisely what is needed in your life right now. I link with my guides who bring through your friends or relatives in the spirit world. I give a clear reading helping you to become aware of the options and general direction you could take in your life.

Can't get out of the house? I offer telephone readings and email readings.

Healing

I was attuned to Reiki and qualified as a Crystal healer in 2003. I work in Axminster where I have my lovely therapy room. Reiki and Crystal healing can help with so many things because I work on both physical & emotional levels. Having trouble sleeping? Feel emotional but don't know why? Feeling drained? Healing can help with all these things and anything physical from broken bones to cancer. The client remains fully clothed whilst either sitting in a chair or laying on the couch then I place my hands around the body to channel the healing energy. The client may experience heat or tingling sensations and a deep feeling of peace and calm.

LIGHT SWITCH ON & LATE NIGHT SHOPPING

FRIDAY 28TH NOVEMBER

CHRISTMAS TREE FESTIVAL 26TH - 30TH NOVEMBER

in Ottery St. Mary

Christmas will arrive in Ottery on Friday, November 28th

THE Christmas lights will be switched on in the square at 6.15pm in The Square, to be followed by a comprehensive programme of events and attractions.

Shops will be open later than normal, and organisers promise "great fun for all the family" and the programme includes hospitality in shops and businesses, competitions for children, Santa in his sleigh with festive treats for children, carol singing and a performance by Ottery Silver Band in the square, starting at 6.30pm.

The Friends of Ottery St Mary Parish Church are again organising their Christmas Tree Festival.

This popular event is now in its fourth year and will run from Wednesday November 26th to Sunday November 30th.

Any new organisations wishing to take part should contact Carol Bennett on 01404 812031.

A message from the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce

IN RECENT weeks we have had the Carnival, which was fantastic, followed by the internationally renowned Tar Barrels, and now we move toward Christmas with the lights switch on and late night shopping.

The magic of Christmas starting in Ottery with the lights switch on by Father Christmas is a must for all the children in Ottery, no matter what your age, and followed by an opportunity to get in some early shopping for the big day.

Ottery's independent shops and businesses pride themselves not only on their customer care, but also on the fantastic product range available. The majority of shops will open until late with the individual shop owners looking forward to welcoming you to their businesses.

The members of Ottery's Chamber of Commerce and myself take this opportunity to wish you all a Happy Christmas and a prosperous and healthy New Year.

Ottery Auction Rooms

WINTER is coming and there is a nip in the air but all those chills were blown away at Ottery Auction Rooms in October as they had their hottest contested auction to date with some great prices paid for some super items.

An early 1960's Gents Rolex watch made £3200. The Chinese market is still very good as a finely embroidered silk jacket made £2500 and a pair of Chinese silver cards made £260 while a pair of carved but damaged late 19th painted hand mirrors soared away to £2700, the vendor whom had fallen asleep in the room had not even realized until auctioneer David Sumner told him in the interval and then literally danced for joy. Even the Japanese market looked like showing some sort of revival with some beautiful yet damaged cloisonné making £880. The market shows signs that good things will still make good money, a postcard sized water-colour by Thomas Bush Hardy Made £1000. Even books which are notoriously difficult to sell did well with individual lots making £460, £300 & £380. Silver and gold did well exceeding scrap value with a 1915 Austrian re-strike coin making £310, some silver flatware making £340. Furniture from across the ages did well with a Marcel Breuer chair making £240 while the Georgian furniture still a little bit in the doldrums with a large secretaire making £300. On a lighter note the more eclectic items did well a vintage brass palm tree standard lamp made £500, a Buthod violin made £410 and a World War Two commando knife made £140.

November was exciting down at the auction rooms with two big sales on. The first was a part clearance of The Grove nightclub in Seaton which has now closed its doors for the final time after years of entertaining the public which was held at the Ottery Auction Rooms Finnimore Industrial Estate saleroom on November 8th. There was all sorts of catering items and bar equipment, tables and chairs. So we will raise a glass to our old friends at the Grove and hopefully meet new ones the next sale day which will be an antique and general auction on Saturday November 29th.

ReView: Andreas Boyde and The Brandenburg Sinfonia

THERE was a spectacular concert at the beginning of November at the Beehive, Honiton, in the Joanna Leach Hall - a memorial concert in celebration of Joanna's life and work.

Joanna was a brilliant pianist who made recordings and who founded Athena Records in 1991. In 1993 she met Andreas Boyde and they developed a profound artistic relationship and deep friendship which is why he heads the list of musicians celebrating her memory.

Andreas opened the concert with Beethoven's Piano Concerto No 5 in E Flat Major, also known as the Emperor Concerto ably supported by the Brandenburg Sinfonia conducted by Robert Porter. He was a joy to watch as well as to hear.

The Allegro was played with power and passion but in the quieter moments the scalework was akin to listening to a waterfall cascading down the rocks - magical. The much gentler Adagio contrasted with the earlier movement and was played with great sensitivity. The Rondo then takes us back in some ways to the Allegro with its noise of battle and mixtures of light and shade. This wonderful concerto was played with great assurance and versatility by Andreas who has truly mastered his instrument. The Brandenburg Sinfonia were also a joy to watch and accompanied the soloist with great rapport as indeed they did when accompanying the singers in the second half of the programme. The second half of the concert started with Mozart's beautiful mass Missa Brevis No 4 in D sung by the Axminster Chamber Choir conducted by Judy Martin and ably accompanied by Peter Parshall, and who gave a first class performance showing virtuosity and understanding of this work.

This was followed by Beethoven's Choral Fantasia in C Minor with piano, chorus and orchestra coming together in a moving finale to this wonderful evening of music.

The Beehive was full of appreciative concert goers and Honiton can be proud of having a hall where a concert such as this could be held and we hope that the future will see more classical concerts.

The Women of World War One

TO CONTINUE with the commemoration of the centenary of World War One, the Marine Theatre plays host to a powerful and moving dedication to women's lives and involvement during this time, entitled The Women of World War One. Created by Musicians South West, in collaboration with Petra Schofield/Magic Penny Productions, The Women of World War One combines the creative elements of poetry, prose and music to portray the subject of women's experiences throughout this cataclysmic event.

Factory workers, nurses, those in the Women's Land Army, fiancées, wives, mothers and daughters, tell their stories in their own words, through letters, diaries and poems. Their emotions are eloquently expressed via vividly illustrated slides and in the music of their contemporaries: Rebecca Clarke, Melanie Bonis, Nadia and Lili Boulanger, and the recently rediscovered songwriter, Muriel Herbert.

A truly poignant, moving and descriptive experience.

The Women of World War One comes to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Friday, November 21st at 7.30pm. Tickets are £10 or £9 (concessions), to book contact TIC on 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE

DRYASABONE SERVICES DRY CARPET CLEANERS

"FORGET WET"

NO MESS! NO FUSS! NO WATER!

Dryasabone carpet cleaners are a 21st century forward thinking family owned local established company that relies on excellent customer service and satisfaction for repeat business and recommendations. We guarantee to provide a sales gimmick free and reliable service with confirmed appointment times at a time convenient for you the customer not us. Our expertise lies in dry/low moisture carpet cleaning, which means no-one is going to come along and soak your carpets with dirty water and steam up your windows for the rest of the day. We specialise in the HOST* Dry extraction method which ensures your carpets are clean, dry and looking their best and back in use immediately. "FORGET WET"

This method of cleaning has been developed over more than 50 years and is used in over 60 countries and by some of the world's largest organisations.

The price we quote is the full and final price you pay. No other gimmicks will be offered---our reputation is our main selling point and will not be compromised. The Advantages.

- Uses safe natural bio-degradable non-toxic products
- Safe for children and pets
- No damp dog smells
- Is fully endorsed by major carpet retailers
- No steamy windows
- No sitting in your kitchen for hours waiting for carpets to dry
- No down time for hotels and guest houses
- Your rooms are back in use immediately
- A true earth friendly process

New Generation i20 UK Pricing And Specification Revealed

SPORTING a sophisticated new design, generous levels of equipment and segment firsts, including a striking full panoramic sunroof, Hyundai Motor UK has revealed pricing and specification details for the New Generation i20. The latest product designed, engineered and built in Europe, the i20 range will be priced from £10,695 OTR when it enters showrooms in January 2015.

Available in five trim levels, the New Generation i20 provides B-segment customers with exceptional levels of equipment. Kicking off the range is i20 S, priced from £10,695, featuring a high standard specification including electric front windows, remote central locking, tinted windows and RDS radio with USB. Supplementing this attractive package, the S Air benefits from the addition of Manual Air Conditioning, while the economical S Blue adds Intelligent Stop and Go (ISG) and low rolling resistance tyres. Both i20 S and i20 S Air are paired with a 1.2 litre 75ps 'Kappa' petrol engine, while S Blue is powered by a 1.1-litre CRDi 75ps diesel engine.

The volume selling i20 SE model gains numerous additions including 16" alloy wheels, voice activated Bluetooth®, Cruise Control with speed limiter, front fog lights, Lane Departure Warning System, rear electric windows and reversing sensors among many other features - prices start from just £12,725. Power comes from a choice of 1.2 litre 84ps or 1.4-litre 100ps petrol engines or 1.1-litre 75ps or 1.4-litre 90ps diesel engines.

Customers opting for the Premium model benefit from even more high-end features including Smartphone Docking Station, automatic dimming rearview mirror, automatic headlights and wipers, Climate control, cornering lights, LED daytime running lights and LED rear lights, projection headlamps and privacy glass. The Premium SE tops the range with equipment that includes front parking sensors, heated front seats and steering wheel and opening panoramic glass sunroof. Premium and Premium SE models share their powertrains with SE models, with the exception of the 1.1-litre 75ps diesel which is not offered in the higher trims.

Ax off bottom as Knox blunts Spurs

Fenny snared in Fishermens net – Sidmouth held in 10-goal thriller

SOUTH-WEST PENINSULA LEAGUE
DIVISION ONE (EAST)
SIDMOUTH TOWN 5 TOTNES & DART 5
SIDMOUTH started really well and were on top for the opening 35 minutes and only some alert goal keeping prevented them from taking the lead.

But then, completely against the run of play, a long clearance eluded centre backs Barker and Mike Stamp and the ball fell kindly to Gareth McEwan who slotted calmly past Ledger.

Unbelievably, five minutes later a similar clearance fell to Angus Wilson who made no mistake with the finish.

Sidmouth bounced back and, crucially right on half time, O'Donoghue exquisitely flicked the ball beyond the stranded visiting keeper from a Pavey cross.

Sidmouth regrouped and equalised two minutes after the restart - this time Pavey side footing home.

Having got themselves back into the game the hosts then fell apart and allowed Totnes & Dartington to score a third through Myles Chalcroft.

This was followed a minute later by another goal, this time the visitors' best player on the day - teenager Buzz Avis on his debut - scoring what should have been the final nail in the Vikings coffin to make it 2-4.

But Sidmouth were not done yet and midway through the half Barker smashed home his shot from a half cleared corner and a comeback seemed possible.

Those hopes looked over in the 70th minute when Barker gave away a penalty and then received a second yellow card which obviously led to a red for arguing with the referee. The resultant penalty was drilled home by Chalcroft and the visitors led 3-5.

Sidmouth seemed to call a 'timeout' and, after a quick group huddle instigated by the experienced Stamp, all could see that Sidmouth were not prepared to give up just yet.

Manager Josh Stunell made three substitutions introducing Jamie Newbery, debutant Ferenc Bodor and Ben Howard.

Ten minutes from time Bodor made an immediate impact providing a perfect cross that Doble bundled over the line. The comeback was completed in the 85th minute when Howard curled home a well-deserved equaliser.

Team: Ledger, Boyland, Stamp, Barker, Pidgeon, Small, Thompson, Doble, Pavey, O'Donoghue, French. Subs: Howard, Newbery, Bodor. Unused Sub: Miller.

Next up for Stunell's side, currently lying eighth in the table, is Saturday's trip to face tenth placed Okehampton Argyle. (3pm ko)

NEWTON ABBOT SPURS 2
AXMINSTER TOWN 5
AXMINSTER Town climbed off the foot of the table with an excellent away win on Saturday.

The Tigers gave debuts to Callum Somers up front and Elliott Dyer, a recent capture from Chard Town.

Ax took the lead through an own goal in the 20th minute following good work from Ben Vine. But the hosts were level 10 minutes later.

Joint manager Pete Knox, who formed a promising partnership with Somers restored the lead before the interval.

The Tigers ran riot after the turnaround and Knox struck twice more to complete his hat-trick before Somers added the fifth.

The visitors became complacent near the end and conceded a poor late consolation.

In addition to Knox, Joint manager Keith Somers picked out Alex Wheatley and Gary Warren as his star turns in a fine all-round team performance.

Team: S.Wells-Burr, E.Dyer, G.Warren,

M.Knight, G.Macauley, B.Vine, A.Wheatley, B.Turner, C.Garrett, C.Somers, P.Knox. Used subs; L.Hoole, B.Miller, L.Beer.

The Tigers now turn their attention the Les Parsons League Cup and a third round tie at Launceston on Saturday.

The hosts, who currently sit in eighth place in the South West Peninsula League Premier Division, will be clear favourites. But Ax go into the game with nothing to lose and will hopefully be cheered by a large travelling support who have taken advantage of the club laying on transport.

The cost of the coach is £10 per person. To book your place contact Keith Somers on 07791 651658.

The spaces will be allocated on a first come first served basis. The coach will leave Axminster at 11.15am. Pick points on route can be arranged.

Supporters will need to pay their own entry fee at Launceston FC.

D&E LEAGUE REPORTS
AXMINSTER RES 2 EXETER UNI 5THS 5
WITH neighbours Axmouth United banking three points, Axminster Town Reserves dropped back down into the bottom two in Division Three after defeat at Forton on Saturday.

The Tigers had the better of the first half but only found themselves level at 2-2 at the interval with Adam Cowling and Elliott Bastin netting for the hosts.

A turning point came at 2-1 in the 43rd minute when Bastin was forced off with injury and the Students took advantage to level as the Tigers looked to reorganise.

The visitors took control with three goals after the break despite the best efforts of central midfielder Stuart Broom who got the Man-of-the-Match vote from manager Keith Taylor who, despite the defeat, was pleased to see his side continue to improve.

BEER ALBION 2 FENITON 1
IN a rip-roaring East Devon derby at the Furzebrake Feniton surrendered their unbeaten record to Beer Albion in what was by far the Fishermens best performance of the season.

Yet again Beer had squad players unavailable or injured, but this gave an opportunity for some of the Reserves to step up and they certainly did – in some style!

Player Manager, and former Aston Villa striker, Richard Walker now playing at centre back superbly marshalled the back four. Alongside him centre-back Joe Adkin and full backs Josh Harrison, and Ollie Page have only a handful of premier division games between them, yet they were all magnificent against a pacy Feniton attack.

Feniton came out of the blocks quickly and Beer looked in danger of being completely overrun in the first 15 minutes. Important saves by keeper Jones, one at point-blank range and the other, a deflection around the post off an outstrutted leg, kept the scoreline blank.

Gradually the home side began to get a foothold in the game.

They took the lead on 40 minutes when John Cooper headed home Simon Smith's in-swinging corner.

Beer went 2-0 ahead in the 55th minute when Man-of-the Match James Melville's through pass found Smith who coolly slid the ball past the Feniton keeper.

With their tails up Beer might have gone further ahead with long-range efforts from Melville and Clode.

But, after a period of sustained pressure, Feniton pulled a goal back with a swift counter-attack and clinical finish. For the final 20 minutes Beer held on for a well-earned three points.

Round-up with Collin Goodwin

HENRY'S CRONIES won an astonishing Devon Senior Cup third round tie 7-5 against WOOLSEY from North Devon after extra time and having played an hour with ten men.

The Exeter-based team were level at 5-5 after 90 minutes but then scored twice in the added half an hour. Star man for the Cronies was Mike Benyon who was head and shoulders above anyone else on the pitch according to referee Brian Reeby.

HATHERLEIGH TOWN are now the only unbeaten team in the Premier Division following their 1-1 draw at SEATON Town.

Luke Reynolds gave Hatherleigh the lead but they conceded what they felt was a soft late penalty and Martyn Hancock earned Seaton a point with the spot-kick.

BOW AAC were 5-2 winners at BUDLEIGH SALTERTON who in turn were just delighted to net a couple of goals.

Alex Bowden, Gavin Coles, Louis Kinch, Matt Kingdom and Kieran Stone shared the Bow goals. Matthew Skinner and Joe Hawkins replied for the Robins.

EAST BUDLEIGH edged a 3-2 victory at home to EXWICK VILLA in the only game to survive in Division One.

In Division Two SIDMOUTH TOWN came out on top with a 2-0 victory at HALWILL, and CHULMLEIGH beat NEWTON POPPLEFORD 4-2 in the other match played.

Division Three leaders EXMOUTH TOWN were held to a 1-1 draw by CHAGFORD who led through Tom Stanbury and felt they missed a great chance for a big upset.

AXMOUTH UNITED followed up last week's first victory with a 5-3 win at home to THORVERTON to move off the foot of the table.

HALWILL came from behind twice to win their Division Five game at FENITON 4-3. Tom Hall 2, Gareth Osborne and Sam Appleby were the Halwill scorers. Richard Austin, Louie Dyer and Jamie Doidge were the home scorers.

In the two Division Six matches to beat the weather KENTISBEARE hit neighbours BRADNINCH for six without reply, and EXWICK VILLAGE also scored six at DUNKESWELL ROVERS who did at least reply twice.

MILLWEY Rise moved to the top of the Division One table after a hard-fought 2-1 win over Pymore at Harry's Field.

Rise squandered several good chances in a goal less first-half and fell behind early in the second half when the prolific Tim Hussey put the west Dorset side ahead.

But skipper Danny Larcombe led from the front with the equaliser and Sam Dibling's 12th goal of the season was enough to clinch the three points and extend Rise's unbeaten run to seven matches.

Meanwhile, Farway United's scheduled visit by Chard United was postponed on Friday evening with Eastlee Park once again waterlogged.

A 3-0 home win over Dowlish & Donyatt sees Hawkechurch United continue to make progress up the Division Three table.

Andy Dymond moved into double figures for the season with the opener and Luke Harding made it 2-0 in the 20th minute.

Harding struck again 10 minutes from time to seal the win.

At the other end three good saves from keeper James Mitchum earned him manager Martin Bright's MoM award as the team kept their first clean sheet of the season.

Down in Division Four Liam Rogers' double counted for little as Farway United Reserves slipped to a 10-2 reverse at title chasing Combe B.

Neil is on-line and inform!

AXE CLIFF with Helen Kenworthy

AS Axe Cliff Golf Club moves into a new era and has adopted a new online booking system, it is only appropriate that the recent winner of the senior November stableford was the IT manager Neil Moorcraft.

Conditions were not favourable for good scoring as members were buffeted by strong winds and squally showers but Neil coped well.

His score of 36 points earned him a handicap reduction as he edged out Tony Strong whose second place was determined on countback from Alan Vincent with both scoring 33 points.

Chris Jowett, Tony Strong and Phil Christmas all carded 2s.

The day, however, belonged to the new age - long may it continue.

The most avid readers of these columns will possibly recall the traumas experienced by the Seniors in a recent medal round.

Friday saw the November version of this competition.

The result was a win for Phil Wilkins (69) beating Tony Strong (70) into second place who beat Stuart Mackie on the countback ruling.

Alan Vincent, John Pugh and Geoff Hughes all carded 2s.

Binion stars in Crediton crushing

MILLWEY RISE round-up

Under 13s Exeter & District Youth League (Division 2) Colyton Cobras 10-2 Millwey Rise (Owen Neal, Charlie Bye)

Under 16s Exeter & District Youth League (Division 2) Kentisbeare Colts 10-0 Millwey Rise

Seaton u16 9 Crediton 0

SEATON had this game well won at half-time as they led 6-0.

The hosts added three more after the turn-around to complete a comprehensive victory.

Crediton put up a brave display but could not crack through midfielders Tony Pinder and Man-of-the-Match Ollie Binion and if they did were held back by strong defensive displays from Jamie Tait and Brandon Curl.

At the other end great movement up the wing from Pete Smith and Cam Gould caused the visitors problems for the whole game.

Goal Scorers were; Skipper Binion (4), Kyle Gould (2), Tony Pinder, Joe Urquhart, and Lewis Cottam.

Brilliant fluent passing and communication proved key and this has hopefully set them up for next weekend's county cup third round tie at home against Brixington Blues (10.30am ko).

Seaton Town under 9s lost 3-1 to Honiton Hornets before turning on the style to beat West Hill Wasps 4-0 in two very entertaining games at the weekend.

Seaton spread their goals around with Leo Gribble (2), Adam Clinch, Henry Mathews and Aaron Hale all on target - this reflected some of their best team play of the season.

George Gait had a great afternoon with his energy, creativity and selfless play creating some of the team's best chances.

Billy Fowler, the youngest player in the team, may give away height and age to many opponents, but his heart and determination was a match for anyone in defence.

Seaton Coach Alan Hale said: "The biggest plus was seeing all the boys involved play as a team - turning defence into attack and trusting in each other.

"They are working really hard in training and it is starting to pay dividends on match days".

Runners plough through Drogo mud

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

with Judy Davey

HONITON Running Club had a great turnout for the South West Road Runners' DROGO 10 mile race last Sunday.

This is a very challenging off-road race with the start and finish at Castle Drogo.

There are two major hills; the first coming out of Fingle Bridge and the second at the eight-mile mark up the infamous Hunters' Path.

There are breathtaking views once at the top of the hills which almost make the pain worthwhile.

The race was won by Johnny Gilby in the incredible time of 57 minutes 37 seconds. Not too far behind was Honiton's Ian Stewart who finished 19th in 1:09:45.

It was Ben Stone's first attempt at the race and he was happy to come 23rd in 1:10:14.

Despite falling over Steve Selley had a great race finishing 89th in 1:21:03 beating Steve Davey by just three places and seven seconds.

Paul Williams was running his first race for the club and had did well finishing right behind Steve with just one second splitting them.

Bruce Strawbridge was next back delighted with his race coming 100th in 1:22:04 less than a minute behind the previous three.

Mark Dallyn's sore ankle held up meaning he finished 125th in 1:23:03. Richard Harris finished next in 131st place in 1:25:39.

Judy Davey was the first back for the Honiton Ladies to come 162nd in 1:28:59. She was followed by Pippa Westall who came 236th in 1:36:10.

The other Honiton lady, Louise Crisp, came next in 250th place in 1:37:45.

Jim Hill is an experienced racer but this was his first for Honiton. He last ran Drogo in 2002 when the route was a little different and he was pleased to finish 342nd in 1:47:05.

Steve Briggs has moved near Plymouth and doesn't get out to club nights so it was great to see him. He finished 370th in 1:50:24. There were 496 finishers.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Matter

WITH the recent wet weather there was some unease as a minibus full of AVR's made its way to Castle Drogo on Dartmoor for this year's DROGO 10 race.

Officially classified as a fell race by the Fell Runners Association due to the significant gradients, the runners have to endure (around 2300 feet in this case) the soggy, muddy conditions underfoot and this certainly proved a significant challenge and hindered any attempts at personal bests for the course.

First back for AVR was Ian Apps who was 35th in 1:13:56 closely followed by James Trewick 37th 1:14:15. James Gular and Rupert Pady were neck and neck right to the finish with James just easing it to be 53rd, 1:16:00 with Rupert 54th 1:16:03.

Next home was Josh Hopson 101st 1:22:08 with Eleanor Wood 122nd 1:24:56.

Cameron Hill, running his first 10 mile race, was 209th 1:33:25; he sprinted to the finish just edging out Margaret Pearce 210th 1:33:27.

Anna McLoughlin was 218th 1:24:06, Alan Morbey 261st 1:38:36, John Larcombe 279th 1:40:32 and Chris Hill 285th 1:41:20 out of 496 finishers.

Thanks to South West Road Runners for staging such an iconic event and to the National and Woodland Trusts for permitting the race.

cricket news ahead of the 2015 season

Key changes at Honiton CC

HONITON Cricket Club held their AGM recently and it in the changes in a few key positions.

Firstly the club has a new Chairman in Andrew Lapping after Kim Slater decided to call it a day.

This made room for a new Vice Chairman which was filled by Pete Matravers.

First XI Captain Rob Ingram will be at the helm for a second season, but 2nd XI Captain Kieran Conway decided to not stand. So their new man in charge is former long time captain Andrew Lapping.

The new chairman was thankful to his long-standing predecessor and is looking forward to the challenge ahead, he said: "Firstly I would like to thank Kim on behalf of everyone at the club.

"She has been a major part of our club for the last 15 years and has left her mark on the club in more ways than one, no one should underestimate what she has done over the years."

Regarding his new roles Lapping said: "Admittedly when going to the meeting I wasn't planning to become Chairman as Kim shocked us with her announcement.

"But now I am doing it I will give it 100 percent as I have with my whole time at the club. I am excited with the challenges ahead and am very driven to take the club forward, both on and off the field.

"We have some fresh faces on the committee and along with our members we will look to move things on."

"As for the captaincy, it was my plan to stand again, after having a few years off from the job to recharge I am now ready to help bring on the newest crop of youngsters"

less travelling

First team Captain Rob Ingram was looking forward to the new campaign despite a tough season last time out.

"Last season we suffered a lot from a lack of availability.

"The planned reshuffle of the leagues to make games more local should reduce travelling times from an hour and 20 minutes to 20 minutes

This will make a big difference to players being able to play more regularly.

The divisions our teams find themselves in will really help our young players to find their feet in league cricket which will benefit the club in the long term."

new under 10s team

The club will be running a Sunday XI, U17 and U14s colt sides and, new for next season, an U10 soft ball team.

If you or your child would like to get involved then please feel free to contact Andrew Lapping on 07792368824 or alaps24@sky.com. Or Rob Ingram on 07795278870 or roingr97@hotmail.com.

On Sunday, November 9th Steve Sweet on Amaretto IV hosted the rearranged Lyme Bay Boat Sea Angling Trophy competition.

Four clubs took part; LRSAC (Lyme Regis), West Bay, Honiton and Beer - each club had two representatives fishing.

Lyme Regis – John Hansford & Mike Rogers, West Bay – Rod Barr & Gerry Reed, Honiton – Karl Roberts & Bill Cassar, Beer – Chris Sweetland & Matt Cornell.

This was an eight-hour Number of Species competition with a difference – after four hours fishing, competitors moved four places around the boat and fished the final four hours in a different position.

The best fish caught, as far as points was concerned, was a smoothhound caught by Bill Cassar closely followed by a plaice and a tub gurnard caught by Matt Cornell.

Both results were then added together to create a team total. Three of the clubs finished quite close together in the final points tally and they all finished on seven species caught.

But the winners, by over 100 points, was Beer Sea Angling Club who caught 11 species totaling 288 points - Matt Cornell (164pts) and Chris Sweetland (124).
